8:15—Lecture, "Our Merchant Marine," Congressman Chas. B. Landis.

What's the matter with George Stuart? He's not lopsided! He's all right!

If the Chautauqua now assembling in the big tent at Eighth and Main streets gave nothing but yesterday's brilliant program it would have amply justified itself. Throughout the entire day a feast of good things was furnished and the last course of the banquet was a rich dessert with wine and flowers in abundance.

Geo. R. Stuart is an old friend and co-worker of Sam Jones, the famous southern preacher and orator, and Sam Jones never at his best gave a more brilliant and characteristic address than that of the tall talker of Tennessee in his dramatic lecture on Lop-sided Folks last night to a thousand people.

Mr. Stuart's style resembles that of the best of the great southern talkers, in that he pours forth periodic torrents of oratory, reveling in flowers and trees, in rocks and hills, mountains and men presenting the grotesque at one moment and the pathetic another.

His talk last night was like a circle of brilliant set in gold. There was philosophy and high moral thought in his epigrams and his wit traveled so rapidly from sarcasm and ridicule of the monstrous and lopsided to poetic and eloquent praise of the true and harmonious that the audience was convulsed between laughter and tears.

Not Physical Deformities.
Physical deformities, he said, was not what he meant by lop-sided people. These could be taken care of by the Allopathist, the Homoeo-pathist, the Osteopathist and other species of pathists. He likes to see all round people even physically.
"Laugh and grow fat" was an adage with a reverse, "Fat and grow laugh."

God seems to delight in trinities.
One of the trinities of human life is to "think," "laugh" and "weep." He liked a man who thinks, but if he does nothing but "think" he is as cold as a dog's nose; if he does nothing but laugh he is a giggling fool; if he only weeps he is fit only for a graveyard. But the thinking man who laughs and weeps and the laughing man who thinks and weeps and the weeping man who thinks and laughs are live all-round people.

All these qualities were natural in all walks of life. The speaker's portrayal of the dude who never thinks, of the religious crank who never smiles and of the giggling fool who never weeps were all inimitable pictures of lop-sided people.

His portrayal of the two kinds of people whose depth of feeling were expressed by laughter or tears was a beautiful and eloquent picture of his father, who always greeted him with a hearty cheer, and his mother, who welcomed him through her tears. Father's cheery laugh always felt good but somehow "mother's tears were just a little sweeter."

Speaking of sympathy he voiced the difficulty of its expression and said in deep sorrow "there is no balm but sympathy and the touch of God's hand."

Another Trinity.
Another human trinity of life was Business, Social and Religious. There are men whose whole life is spent in going "down to the store and back to home," "down to the office and back to home," "down to the farm and back to home."

"Half the presidents of the United States were from the farm and they made good ones, but if I were a young woman I would as soon be married to the town pump as to a man who goes 'down to the farm and

SPECIAL VERDICT IN CHELSMA CASE

Jury Finds No Time Was Specified in Agreement With Goddard on Wood Work

BIRNBAUM CASE IN COURT

Action of North Side Grocer Alleging Boycott Is Begun Before Judge
Higbee Today

A special verdict was returned by the jury in circuit court yesterday afternoon in the case of Charles J.
Chelsma vs. Hiram Goddard. Chelsma sued the defendant for $5,000 alleging the breach of a contract which he had with Mr. Goddard to remove the wood from certain lands owned by the latter near Amsterdam, Wis.
He claimed that his contract was for five years and that the defendant refused to allow him to perform his contract as specified on the ground that his agreement was for the duration of one year.

The jury found that there was no time limit specified in the contract, that the defendant had refused to allow the plaintiff to perform the contract on his part, that the cost to the plaintiff per thousand feet for logging sawing and delivering all of the lumber on the defendant's land would have been $7.00 per thousand feet, that the cost per cord for cutting, hauling and delivering at Amsterdam all of the cord wood on the land would have been $1.30, that there was on the land 538,000 feet of timber suitable for sawing into lumber and 3,200 cords of cordwood, that the actual amount cut and delivered and that but $17.65 had been advanced to the plaintiff on the contract.

Judge E. C. Higbee will render his decision in the case Saturday. Attorneys Morris and Hartwell appeared for the defendant and C. L. Hood re-grocers' case up.

Nicholas Birnbaum, a North side grocer, alleges that all of the other grocers in the city of La Crosse have entered into a conspiracy against him and together with local jobbers and wholesalers have prevented him from obtaining goods. A lawsuit is today being heard in circuit court before Judge E. C. Higbee in which Mr.
Birnbaum is the plaintiff and H. H.
Hegge et al. are defendants. There are 17 parties defendant in the action, all of whom are members of the La Crosse Retail Grocers' association.

Jurors were chosen as follows: George Hoeth, Otto Lee, E. C. Hancock, H. A. Dimler, Olaf Houg, D.
H. Bamberg, T. E. Tully, E. Winter, August H. Heller, H. Miller, Joseph H. Drake and Chris. Nelson.

On the stand this morning Mr.
Birnbaum alleged that through the intervention of the grocers, whole-salers through whom he ordered goods failed to deliver to him, and none of the firms sent their salesmen to see him or take his orders.

Mr. Birnbaum conducts a grocery store at the corner of George and Gillette streets, on the North side, near the Burlington shops.

INCREASE REVENUE TAX ON TOBACCO

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.— As the result of the rather startling exposures made by Senator Beveridge in his recent speeches about the enormous profits of the tobacco trust, and how it has escaped with small taxation, the senate finance committee has decided that it will increase the internal revenue tax on tobacco. The precise rate has not yet been definitely determined and was still under consideration at a meeting of a sub-committee this afternoon. It is expected, however, that the tax will be fixed at eight cents a pound on all tobacco except snuff, cigars and cigarettes. The present law is six cents a pound and Beveridge urged that it should be made nine cents per pound.

JURY FINDS WIFE KILLED HUSBAND

MANKATO, Minn., June 30.—"We find that Holly J. Ledbetter came to his death on the fourth day of May, 1909, by a blow on his head from some blunt instrument, in the hands of Mrs. Grace Ledbetter, and we further find that Frank Smith, Goldie Schwandt and William Schwandt were accessories to the crime." This is the verdict of the coroner's jury that probed the murder of H. J. Ledbetter, the farmer whose body was found buried on his farm by a searching party last Sunday.
Mrs. Ledbetter, wife of the murdered man, accused of crushing his skull and aiding in secreting the body, refused to testify or answer any questions as did Mrs. Schwandt, as did her sister, likewise Wm. Schwandt, the dead man's brother-in-law.

TAFT ADDRESSES YALE GRADUATES

President Attends Annual Graduation and Dines With President Hadley Today

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 30.— President Taft's private car Olympia was dropped off the Boston-bound Federal express at 3:36 a. m. and was quietly sidetracked with a number of coaches belonging to railroad magnates, capitalists and notables who have come to Yale to "whoop up" the commencement exercises. It was the president's wish that no demonstration occur at the station and as a result his departure was quiet.

At Woolsey Hall President Hadley conferred the degrees and diplomas and Mr. Taft in cap and gown made the address of honor. After the commencement the president went to the Hadley residence, where he remained until 1 p. m., when he attended the alumni dinner at university hall.

ENGLAND DOUBLES ITS GREAT NAVY

LONDON, June 30.—In an address that aroused unbounded enthusiasm at the meeting of the London Chamber of Commerce today, Admiral Lord Chas. Beresford demanded that vigorous measures be taken to regain the naval supremacy of England and outlined a plan of naval expansion which he said he had submitted to the admiralty and which contemplates the building of the Dreadnaughts in addition to the four provisional ships already provided for before March 31, 1914 and a practical doubling of the immense sea force of Britain.
All of this Admiral Beresford estimated would cost in the neighborhood of $275,000,000 or $300,000,000.

DAUGHTER OF TOM LAWSON WEDS TODAY

BISTON, Mass., June 30.—Under the folds of the largest American flag in existence which is streaming down from a 166 foot flagpole at Dreamworld, the beautiful estate of Thomas W. Lawson here, Miss Marion, the daughter of the "Frenzied Finance" celebrity, will be married late this afternoon to James F. Lord, of Chicago. The wedding will be celebrated in the middle of the garden which contains probably the greatest collection of crimson rambler roses in America and all of them are in full bloom today.

TRAVEL "INCOG," ALL SAME KING

ANTWERP, June 30.—Mrs. Hattie Elkins and Miss Katherine Elkins arrived today. They would say nothing as to their destination and declared they intended to travel incognito during their visit to the continent.

LIKELY TO GIVE LEADERS PLACES

Late this afternoon street railway and union committees were in session to arbitrate the remaining differences. It is said Thru and Sprout will be reinstated at once.

"DICK" PRICE IS KILLED BY CARS

Postmaster at Wonewoc Meets Death While Enroute to Reedsburg to Pay Rent for Gov't

REEDSBURG, Wis., June 30.— (Special.)—Richard Price, postmaster at Wonewoc, Wis., was killed here yesterday while attempting to get off a moving freight train. His remains were badly mangled under the cars.
Price came to Reedsburg to pay the rent on the building which is occupied by the government post office at Wonewoc, and embarked on the freight train, thinking that it would stop here. The train ran through this point without slackening speed with the result that Price was drawn beneath the wheels in attempting to jump.
Over $400 were found in the pockets of the deceased. His remains were discovered by a railroad man a few minutes after the accident. Mr.
Price was a man of wide acquaintance in the state and prominent politically.

MORRIS PRESIDENT OF REGENTS AGAIN

MADISON, Wis., June 30.— (Special.)—At the meeting of the board of normal regents today the following officers were elected: President, Senator Thomas Morris, La Crosse; vice president, C. H. Crownhardt, Superior; secretary, William Kittle, Madison. Reports of committees on teachers for each school is expected tonight.

WAS ELSIE SIGEL KILLED BY "TONGS"

Police Think She May Have Learned Too Much of Inner Workings of Society

SEVERAL ARE IMPLICATED

Murderers Tried to Dispose of the Body in Yung Wah's Laundry But Failed

NEW YORK, June 30.—That six Chinamen besides Leon Ling were implicated in the murder of Elsie Sigel is the latest theory of the police who are shadowing two of the new suspects and may place them under arrests shortly. The police believe four Chinamen had an actual hand in the killing of the girl. A fifth, Chung Sin, admits he looked through a door and saw the murder, while two others were certainly accessories, in that they had a knowledge of the contents of Leon Ling's trunk.
Until the discoveries which led the police to adopt this theory, the authorities were sure that Elsie Sigel was killed by a jealous Chinaman, Leon Ling, because she preferred his rival, Chu Gain.

Now, since they believe six men were implicated in the crime, they are seeking a deeper motive than jealousy. It is suggested that the girl, through her associations with Leon Ling and Chu Gain and other Chinamen, while ostensibly performing missionary work in Chinatown, may have given the girl too much knowledge of the inner workings of the Chinese secret society.

The police refuse to reveal the source of their information that the missionary was a victim of a gang, but declare they have made important discoveries and may make arrests shortly. No clew has been found, however, as to the present whereabouts of the missing Leon Ling, believed to have been the arch-murderer. That Leon and his accomplices, if he really had aid, tried to dispose of the body numerous times before finally leaving it in the trunk in Leon's room is proven by the latest police investigation.

The police have found that after the murder which they are sure was committed in the Eighth Avenue room, Leon placed the body in a trunk and took the trunk in an express wagon to 730 West 126th street, where Yung Wah runs a laundry.

Yung Wah is a cousin of Yung Dat, Leon's most intimate friend. In the cellar of Yung Wah's laundry, where the expressman first carried the body, the police have found that boards in the floor had been torn up and that efforts had been made to dig a grave. There was but a few inches of dirt, however, as the house is on a rock foundation and the efforts to dig a grave sufficiently deep to cover the trunk proved unsuccessful. Then Leon gave Yung Wah sufficient money to have a new floor laid in the cellar. Immediately after this was done, Yung Wah sold his laundry business and disappeared.
The police believe his disappearance is proof that he knew of the crime.

Finding that he could not dispose of the body in the 126th street place, Leon had the trunk taken to Newark, where he tried to leave it. Unsuccessful there, too, he brought it back to his rooms in Eighth avenue and left it there when he fled.

It is also believed the telegram sent from Washington, signed with the initials of the dead girl and telling her family she was there and not to worry, was composed in Young Wah's laundry and sent to Washington by a Chinaman who had it wired to the Sigel family. The police found in this laundry a rough draft of the "don't worry" telegram, together with Elsie Sigel's full name and address. In a stove in the laundry there have been found portions of burned garments which are believed to have been Elsie Sigel's clothing, which up to this time have been missing.

The two Yung cousins were members of the same secret society as Leon Ling and had aided him to cover up his crime and escape, the police declare.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.,
June 30.—(Special.)—E. M.
Wing of La Crosse was elected president of the State Bankers' association of Wisconsin at the annual convention of the association here. M. A. Graet-tinger of Milwaukee, who was a candidate for the office withdrew in favor of the La Crosse candidate. The officers are as follows:

Real Estate Loans

Resolutions were adopted deploring the death of former President Henry D. Smith and the illness of Vice President J. H. Puelicher Milwaukee.
It was voted to make the office of secretary a paid position with a salary of $2000 a year. The association went on record as favoring legislation permitting national banks to loan a "conservative percentage" of their surplus on real estate valued at double the loan on banks in places of less than 20,000 population.

New members of the executive committee to serve until 1912 were named as follows: William Post, Milwaukee National bank, and E. J.
Hughes, First National bank, Milwaukee; Pear Benson, Superior, J.
W. Dunnigan of Stevens Point will fill the vacancy on the executive committee caused by the resignation of W. F. Collins.

Owen Owen proved to be one of the most important speakers of the meeting. His address Tuesday afternoon on "Guaranteeing or Insurance of Bank Deposits" was listened to with deep attention.

SPARTA, Wis., June 29.—(Special.)—John Lunburg, the man who was seriously injured while jumping a freight at Warrens last week died at the County Farm in this city, from gangrene poisoning and the effects of two operations. Lunburg attempted to jump a train and missed his hold falling under the wheels, both legs being so badly mangled that they were amputated, one below the knee and the other just above. Gangrene poisoning set and another amputation was necessary, this time the legs both being cut below the hips.

The second operation did not stay the poisoning and Lunburg succumbed from its effects.

Lunburg was 38 years old and gave different places as his home at different times, among which was Seattle, Wash. Relatives in that city were notified of his demise.

The remains were interred at the

EXPECTS TO BEAT JOHNSON

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 30.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, has arrived in Pittsburgh for his six round fight this evening with Tony Ross, the Italian. Both men are in prime condition for the battle. That Johnson is the idol of his race was proved by the welcome he received when he stepped from the train. Five thousand negroes, headed by a brass band, were on hand to greet the black champion and they escorted him through the principal downtown streets to his hotel. Johnson says he is going to make short work of the Italian. Tony says that while he expects the bout to go the full six rounds he will hand out a little better than he receives.

A BIT NETTLED

If it is true, as union men believe, that the Leader-Press announced the settlement of the car strike at 6:30 Saturday, 44 hours before it was actually settled, in order to hurt the attendance at the mass-meeting held later the same evening, there need be no surprise, for the organ of a public service company must do the bidding of its masters. However, the attempt to sustain the claim that the settlement was made at a time after which there passed 44 hours of hard fighting for an essential change in the men's favor, which was finally secured, is absurd, for the union men know that but for that delay of many hours there would have been no union man on the board of arbitrators. The Leader-Press is a little nettled, doubtless, because a half hour after it had announced the strike settlement the Tribune in an extra explained to the public that vital matters were still to be adjusted. Or, perhaps what hurt worse was the fact that on the following Monday the Tribune published a detailed account of the settlement of the strike two hours before the Leader-Press was able to reach the street with a mere summary of the settlement terms.

All these things are more amusing than important. When the trouble first started the Tribune published from day to day accounts of the controversy between the carmen and the company. It told of the arrival of strikebreakers, of the building of the bunk house and of the employment of detectives. The Leader, doubtless under orders, published no comment upon the strike excepting to deny that one was under contemplation, until two days before the strike, when it announced that trouble was imminent. It seems that union men had been stopping their subscriptions because of the attitude of the paper, which found the hostility of the public becoming so great that it was forced at last to admit what the men believe was a censured version of the daily strike news.

And now, Lo! The Leader has become the champion of labor and the friend of the carmen, after their fight is won and its power to injure

DARKIES HERE TONIGHT.

The Dixie Troubadours will make a visit to La Crosse tonight in the two-act musical comedy "The Black--and-Tan Strollers," with what the New York critics pronounce the greatest singing, dancing and comedy show of the season. Among the whistling catching numbers are green, "Shouting Time," "Silas Green," "Texarkana Anna," "I Have Taken Quite a Fancy to You Dear," "Move on Mr. Moon," "My New Orleans," "The Original Song," "Foolish," and "G-r-a-f-f-e-r," "Hello Kid," "Bon Bon Buddy Chocolate Drop," "Red, Red Nose," and ten other top-notch songs, that simply won't let you keep your feet still and make you whistle whether you want to or not.

their appearance at the La Crosse theater tonight.

This is the thirteenth annual or trans-American and California tour.
It has been pronounced by the New York critics as the greatest singing show of the year, and the public are going into ecstasy over it, and if the opening performance is any criterion of what is to follow the balance of the season, many of the theaters will be much too small to hold the crowds. Sarah Gagen is to be seen and heard at her best, and Manager Voeckel has surrounded her with the strongest support in years. "The Black-and-Tan Strollers," a masterpiece of comical situations, musical music, real comedy, embodying in it a touch of Weberfieldian situations, is the one big hit of the Troubadours and nightly applause bordering on a riot in the usual reception given this, the best of all the colored shows.

The Dixie Troubadours are putting up one of the best performances that this company has ever given to the music and fun-loving public. It is no unusual occurrence to display the standing room sign as early as 7:30 in many of its engagements. The Troubadours always give satisfaction and always give you just what they promise and give you a first class up-to-date show. "The Black-and-Tan Strollers" is one of the best musical conveyances that this company has ever been able to secure.

them is past. Really, you can neither "fool all of the people some of the time, nor some of the people all of the time," with work so coarse as that attempted by the newspaper that defended the reprehensible "Central Electric deal."

COOL RASCALITY

We commend to the attention of our readers the following from the Wall Street Journal:

Any patriotic citizen, not of the spread-eagle kind but with the happiness of his country sincerely at heart, would be a great deal more anxious about her welfare in a time of contentment and false peace than in a period of popular outburst against real or even fancied wrongs.
Pain is part of the pathology of a disease and is one of the symptoms of life and consequent possibilities of recovery. We are in a lull after a storm just now, but there are some features of it which are anything but reassuring.

The newest thing in modern literature is the restatement of old truths. Mr. Roosevelt discovered the decadence and he was pardonably proud, while many of his fellow countrymen were appealed to with all the force of novelty. Here is the restatement of an old truth by one of the most striking of modern writers of English:

"But all conservatism is based upon the idea that if you leave things alone you leave them as they are.
But you do not. If you leave a thing you leave it to a torrent of change.
If you leave a white post alone it will soon be a black post. If you particularly want it to be white you must be always painting it again; that is, you must be always having a revolution. Briefly, if you want the old white post you must have a new white post. But this which is true even of inanimate things is in a quite special and terrible sense true of all human things. An almost unnatural vigilance is really required of the citizen because of the horrible rapidity with which human institutions grow old. It is the custom in talking romance and journalism to talk of men suffering under old tyrannies.
But, as a fact, men have almost always suffered under new tyrannies; under tyrannies that had been public public liberties hardly twenty years before." G. K. Chesterton. "Ortho-doxy."

We have only to glance at the tarriff discussion in the senate to see how far we have fallen back, after
the moral upheaval of a few years ago. The spectacle there is so base, so utterly without patriotism or principle, so far from the ideals of ethically, so crudely self-seeking, and so callously ready to sacrifice the interest of an entire nation for the benefit of a small part of it, the interest of a state for a small interest of a state, that it is a confounding portion of that state, and even the interest of a congressional district for that it points to the establishment of the new tyranny of which Mr. Chesterton speaks.

This moral rot in our commercial system, so indecently displayed in the United States senate, is one of a number of signs which should cause us to think. This newspaper has always maintained that our broader financial methods are in the essentially clean and, in fact, that Wall street could not exist if the body as a whole were really corrupt. There is, however, evidence patent enough to any observer that favored interests are trying to establish a return to conditions which were most properly suppressed within the past four years. It should be unnecessary to mention in detail what those conditions are. Amongst other things they include control of the property of investors by other than fair means, the use of so-called "inside" influence and information in stock speculation, the abuse of banking facilities for the same purpose, the attempt to return to secrecy in the management of corporations, and other expedients of the most insidious and dangerous form of false finance.

Wall Street is entitled to protection from injustice, like any other section of this country, but the first duty of the financial district is to set its own house in order. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, here as elsewhere.

The statement that the sugar trust, caught red-handed in the act of defrauding the government out of millions, and confessing its guilt by making at least partial restitution, will not be prosecuted, suggests that La Follette's Magazine and Col.
Roosevelt, in the Outlook, are justified in criticism of Taft as a standpatter. Haste in arriving at that conclusion would not be fair to the president, but his attitude is creating a fast-growing impression that the reaction from Rooseveltism has set in, and that the leading reactionary is Mr. Taft.

Chicago has determined that, if it cannot get rid of its bomb throwers, it will get rid of its police chief.

IN THE NATION'S CAPITOL

Now that the schedules of the tariff bill are out of the way and it is absolutely certain that so far as the senate is concerned the result of the tariff bill is revision upward, the senate will entertain the country with a discussion of the corporation tax and of the administrative features of the bill, the maximum and minimum provision of which will revise all the rates, not only those that have already been revised by the changing in the schedules either up or down, but also those which remained unchanged from the rates established by the Dingley law and which affect 75 per cent of our entire imports—or are to be revised upward by the clause to the amount of 25 per cent ad valorem.

The discussion of the corporation tax, however, will wax so warmly that it is the hope of Mr. Aldrich that these items which make for the increase in the cost of living will attract but little attention.

The corporation tax which was taken up for discussion in the senate today is very disappointing to the progressive senators.

"Give us a lawsuit." That in substance is what the corporation tax means. "If you enact an income tax you are merely enacting legislation which will result in a lawsuit. We do not want a lawsuit. So let us discard the income tax and enact a corporation tax."

Elliott Root and Nelson W. Aldrich did not say what is quoted but that is the substance of the argument of these eminent men. Yet when they bring in a measure to put their ideas into the form of law it is palpably an invitation for a lawsuit. The corporation tax amendment which President Taft has permitted to be christened with his name is subject to the same legal objection which is urged against an income tax. Stripped of all legal verbiage the income tax was declared to be unconstitutional, for the reason that it is a direct tax and it is not apportioned according to the population of the several states. The corporation tax is also a direct tax and it is not apportioned according to the population of the several states.

The changing of the name in no way changes the character of this tax. Good lawyers in the senate say that it is open to the same objection urged against the enactment of an income tax and to the same extent.
The thorough airing which this whole subject is receiving upon the floor of the senate will open the eyes of the country.

Although President Taft put his official O. K. upon the measure before it was introduced he must be pretty near to the point where he will change his mind. The president recommended the corporation tax strongly because he said that it would furnish a means for publicity of the affairs of corporations. As it has been proposed by Mr. Aldrich and O. K., by the president it does not do anything of the kind. It contains this significant clause: "It shall be unlawful for any collector, deputy collector, agent, clerk or other officer or

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Vagabondage

When the silver's on the sagebrush,
And the snow is off the crest, (As Jim Riley might have told us, If he'd grown up farther west) Then you get your dusty saddle, And you rope the big pack mule,
And you start to be a student In old Mother Nature's school.

When the foam is on the trout stream,
And the green is on the hills, Then you march the upper highways To a song that never stills; It's the song of deeps and shadows,
And of brilliant, starlit nights—It's the song of vagabondage.
And of campfires on the heights, —Arthur Chapman in Denver Republican.

Substitution

"Good morning, madam," voiced the cheery salesman.
"Good morning!" echoed the quiet looking matron, "have you something very choice in Irish lace?"
"Well—er—no; but here's something just as good at 75 cents a yard."
"Just as good?" doubtfully.
"Yes, yes; in fact, confidentially, superior to the real article. How much do you wish, please?"
"Just a yard," sweetly. "Here's your money."

Ignorance Aids Appetite

Merrill E. Gates, secretary of the board of Indian commissioners, was describing the splendid work that his board is doing to wipe out the tuberculosis scourge which at one time threatened to make the American Indian extinct.

"But the Indian," said Mr. Gates, "needs to be educated in sanitation.
He is shockingly ignorant there. In fact, he is as ignorant as an old farmer I used to know in Warsaw."

"A friend dropped in on this old farmer as he was trying a bit of bacon."

"Grand bacon, that," said the friend, sniffing affably.

"Grand bacon! Well, I guess it is grand bacon," said the old man turning the slices in the pan. "And it's none o' yer murdered stuff, neither.
That pig died a natural death."— Washington Post.

Couldn't Let the Chance Slip By

Mother—Johnny, Johnny, why are you slapping your sister?
Johnny (sullenly)—Auntie made me.

Auntie—Why, Johnny, how can you tell such a falsehood?
Johnny—Well you did. You said you never kiss me again if I hurted my little sister.—Judge.

Refer the Question

A fresh young lawyer had the insane idea that bulldozing a witness brought about the best results. He was the defendant's attorney in an important case and naturally was anxious to win. One of the witnesses for the plaintiff was a youngster of perhaps 16 years of age, red-headed, had a pugnaucious hang to his jaw, and as he took his seat in the witness chair he gazed about the court room as if he felt perfectly at home. Then the lawyer got him.

"What's your name?" bellowed the exponent of Blackstone.

"Bill," was the quiet response.

"Bill what?"

"Bill Watt," repeated the boy.

"Now, see here, young man, don't get new. I want your name—and quick, too. Again what is it?"

"Bill Watt—Watt—Watt—that is it. Do you want me to whistle it?" sancily replied the youngster.

"Oh, I see—your name is Watt—W-a-t-t, eh?" said the lawyer as the audience grinned.

"You're on," spoke the boy.

"Now, Bill Watt, pay strict attention to the question I'm going to ask you. Listen. Isn't it true that you have sometimes been called a prevarior?"

"Well, I guess I'm not one of those prevaricator things—not by a long shot. You've got the wrong child, old scout," saucily remarked the redhead.

"Very well," replied the lawyer.

"We will let that pass. But now, isn't it true that your father never brought you up in a proper manner, isn't it true that he is rather shiftless, never works, and makes your mother take in washing, and—"

"Say, you—you!" The boy tried hard to get the words in.

"And isn't it true," continued the lawyer, "that he is in fact a sort of a loafer, and a—"

"Hold on! Hold on, there!" cried the boy, this time so everybody could hear him. "What's the use of askin' me them questions. Why don't you ask pop himself—he's sittin' over there on th' jury!"—Washington

Great Improvement

The patient told the doctor all his symptoms. At the end of the recital the medical man looked severe.

"My dear sir," he said, "you must gradually give up whiskey and soda."

Some months later he met the patient and inquired whether the advice had been followed.

"To the letter," replied the patient, beaming. "Why, I've already given up soda completely!"—New York Times.

how I could go after them high liners."—Kansas City Journal.

MARVEL FLOUR ALWAYS PURE

MARVEL Flour has never been bleached, and never will be bleached, because we use only the highest grade of wheat and spend plenty of time and money in the natural, perfect milling of all flour that bears our name. We don't have to change our plant to comply with the law. Order MARVEL Flour from your grocer now. It is pure and always has been. Other flours have been forced by the U. S. Government to stop "bleaching" and become pure.

MARVEL Flour is pure; the same today as it always has been, the most platable, nourishing and economical flour in the world.

Don't eat baker's bread unless you know that it is made from MARVEL Flour. We mill only the highest grade wheat, and yet our flour costs no more than the poorly made and bleached product. You will make better and more bread, biscuits, cake and pastry with

You do well to rebuke me with my own words.

He turned away from her, and groped for his chair. This time she did not offer to help him, but watched him with blazing eyes. Her small and frail body trembled with passion. She had offered him so much, and he had cast it all back in her face.

"I suppose you think that Laura will leave her husband again," she said fiercely, "and that she will come to you again and ask for your protection. Has it not occurred to you that she has perhaps learnt a lesson from adversity?"

"If she has not," he replied "I have already done so. You may rest assured, Leonore, that I and Laura Tankerlane will never meet again in this world, unless she comes to me.
I shall never seek her out. I shall stay on here—alone."

He found his chair, and flung himself wearily on the soft leather cushions. The excitement of the interview had left its mark upon his face. The lips were almost white, and twitched nervously. The anger died from Leonore's eyes, as she looked upon the wreck of a strong man, and the sight moved her once more to pity. Besides, had she not heard from his own lips that he would never seek out Laura Tankerlane again? It was not because of Laura that he had tried to drive her from his side.

She moved forward timidly, as though his blind eyes could see her every movement, and when she reached his chair, she once more sank on her knees, and touched his hand with her fingers.

"Jack," she whispered softly.

"Yes, Leonore."

"Why do we talk of things that can only keep us apart. Is there so little pain and sorrow in the world that one has to seek it? Have we not both suffered enough?"

"I shall suffer yet more," he replied in a low voice; "the cup is not yet full."

"I love you," she whispered tenderly. "Can I not be near you to help you in your sorrow, to lighten your darkness? Let me devote my life to you. You shall see with my eyes, and I will be your second self.
If you need proof of my devotion, surely you can see it now. I have stifled my pride, I have forgiven the bitter words you used to me. I am here pleading on my knees to you.
No woman could so humble herself, save with the humility of love. Let me serve you with my whole life."

"Leonore, Leonore," he cried piteously, "no woman should speak to a man like this. It is I who should plead. The sin is mine. It is I who should ask for forgiveness."

She looked tenderly at his white face, and then, half rising from the floor, she flung her arms round his neck and kissed him on the lips.

The action was so sudden that the blind man was powerless to resist it.
But he did not respond to the embrace. She unloosed her arms, and sinking back on the floor, buried her face in her hands, and sobbed as though her heart would break.

"Leonore," he said gently, "you must leave me. You must not come here again."

She did not answer, but seized his hand and clung to it, as though no force on earth should drag him from her side.

"Leonore," he said more sternly,
"this is folly, madness. Our marriage must not take place. It will be better for you—better for me, if we do not meet again."

Contempt of Court

Mark Twain was waiting for a street car in Boston when a young girl approached him, smiling. She was a lovely girl, fresh, blooming, ingenious, bubbling with enthusiasm, and evidently on her way home from school.

"Pardon me," she said. "I know it's very unconventional but may I ever have another chance. Would you mind giving me your autograph?"

"Glad to do it, my dear child," said Mr. Clemens, drawing out his fountain pen.

"Oh, it's so good of you," gurg-

Have you thought of what that will mean?

"Yes," she asked slowly.

"Yes," he replied. "It will mean freedom for you. Your talents ought never to be obscured by the dulling influence of married life. As a wife your great gifts will be wasted.
As the wife of an invalid, of a groping, pulling child—for I am no better than a child in my blindness —they would be lost for ever. Think of the life, Leonore, tied to a log like me, who cannot even see the smile on your face. Why, it will be penal servitude!"

"Have you thought of what it will mean to you? Of your own life passed in loneliness and darkness, at the mercy of servants who will rob you, of acquaintances who will pity you?"

"I have thought of all that. Yet it would be better than the ruin of a young and brilliant woman, who has a great career before her. I have done enough mischief in my life already."

"Jack," she said calmly, "do you wish me to believe that you are only thinking of me in this matter? I cannot forget what you have just said to me."

"You are justified in making that remark," he replied. "When you first told me the truth I thought chiefly of what you had told me. But I know now that you love me so well that your love is an excuse for anything you may have done. And, knowing this, I refuse to ruin your life."

She was silent, and though he could not see her face, he realized that she did not believe him.

"You do not believe me?" he continued, "but I tell you, Leonore, that if I were as other men, and my sight were restored to me, I would marry you in spite of everything. I swear this to you."

"Knowing that your sight can never be restored," she retorted; "yet it is now that you need me. I cannot bear to speak of what lies before you. I cannot bear even to think of it. I only know that I wish to be with you in your darkness."

"I can fight my own battles," he replied slowly, "and it is better that no one else should get hurt in them.
I shall soon get used to the darkness. They say it is only the first

MARVIN LOSES IN FIGHT ON SALOONS

Caledonia Street Establishments Will Be Continued by the Council

NEW ONE OPPOSITE CAMERON

Nat Jarvis Takes Out a License; La Crescent Bridge Will Be
RepairedThe council last evening granted 138 saloon licenses including the three saloons in the 1400 block on Caledonia street against which the petition was circulated some time ago by Alderman Marvin of the ninth ward. The matter of granting these licenses was voted on separately, and it was found that the council by a bare majority favored the regranting.The expected termination of the fight against the saloons of F. H.
Miller, 438 Avon street, and C. E.
Bruchman at 500 Avon street, which are within a radius of three hundred feet of the school at Island and Berlin streets, did not occur last evening. Alderman Marvin presented a petition which he claimed had the required majority of signatures of the parents and guardians of the school children in that ward, but Alderman Downs stated that he also had a petition favoring the regranting of the licenses of these saloons signed by a majority. The law on the question was explained by the city attorney and as the settlement rested on the question of who had the legal majority, it was referred to a committee appointed by the mayor and consisting of Aldermen Downs, Johde and Roth and City Attorney Doherty.Nathan Jarvis was granted a license to run a saloon opposite the Cameron house on Vine street. The management of the hotel rendered a petition against the granting of the license but by a vote of the council the saloon was permitted. A question of the legal right to operate a liquor establishment was raised but the city attorney ruled that it was within the law.

Repair La Crescent Bridge

The council was authorized to purchase two carloads of planking for the repairing of the bridges on the La Crescent road, the lumber to be purchased without the intervention of formal contract.

Printing Contracts Awarded

The contract for publishing the city notices, ordinances and legal advertisements was awarded to the Leader-Press and the contract for the publishing of the proceedings of the common council was let to The Tribune.

ONE WARDEN MUST LOSE PLACE HERE

Residents of this senatorial district are wondering how the new game laws will effect the deputies in this district.Warden G. L. Kingsley of this city and Warden Holmes of Trempealeau are the present deputies and as the new laws state that there shall be but one deputy in each of the 33 senatorial districts there is considerable speculation as to which one will hold the position.

UNWRITTEN LAW SAVES PACELLANO

CHICAGO, June 20.—The first acquittal in history of a slayer pleading the "unwritten law" as justification was recognized in court Tuesday when a jury freed Michael Pacel-lano who killed Frank Serano after Serano had lured Pacellano's sister to New York.Pacellano charged that Serano, after he had taken the sister, Mrs.
Josephine Presso, a bride of a week, to New York, attempted to sell her into white slavery. She got word to her brother who went to New York and rescued her. Pacellano said he induced Serano to return to Chicago with them and that the latter promised to marry Mrs. Presso when her husband had obtained a divorce.
When Serano reached Chicago, however, he refused to make a specific promise, according to Pacellano and the latter shot him down.The jury wrangled for 1 hour over the admissibility of the "unwritten law" before a verdict was reached.

WOULD ORGANIZE A BAKERS' UNION

Herman Ross, general organizer of the bakers' and confectionary workers' international union of America has arrived in La Crosse and has been calling on the bakers and confectioners here with the object of organizing a bakers' union here. Mr. Ross left last night for Minneapolis, where he was called on sudden business and will return to this city in a few days to perfect the organization.One of the requirements of a union shop for the manufacture of food stuffs is that the shop be clean, airy and sanitary, and Mr. Ross was well pleased with La Crosse bakeries in this regard, although he said there was room for improvement in some.There probably never was a red headed boy who wasn't called "Red" by his companions.

DEAD IN TORPEDO BOAT EXPLOSION

VALLEJO, Cal., June 20.—One man is dying today and four others are seriously injured as the result of an explosion on board the torpedo boat Hull at the Mare Island Navy Yard late last night.Dying: B. F. King, second class fireman.Seriously injured: J. R. Carter, first class fireman; F. N. Parrish, coal passer; F. Crawford, second class fireman; J. M. Grover, water tender.The explosion occurred in the boiler room of the Hull while it was lying off Angel Island. Immediately following it the room was filled with scalding steam and all five victims were terribly scalded about the body.
King also inhaled the steam and his chance of recovery is slight.A girl is as patient in trying to be

Railroads Are Unfair and

A revival in barge traffic on the upper Mississippi is indicated by the construction of barges at La Crosse, St. Louis, Burlington, Keokuk, Dubuque and other ports between St.
Paul and St. Louis.

A representative of a Minneapolis milling company said yesterday that his employers had been talking with upper river men with a view to determining the cost of operating a barge line from the Twin Cities to points on the upper Ohio, the upper Illinois canal and ports on the lower Mississippi. One of these rivermen was Capt. Winans of the towboat Pat-finder and sternwheeler Mars, which have been engaged in the log rafting and towing business on the upper river out of St. Paul for some years.

The practicability of operating barges on the upper Mississippi is witnessed every year. This year a barge line has been operating between St. Paul and Iowa river ports with cargoes of lumber and milling products, shipped from the Pacific coast and northern points for transshipment here.

Barges as constructed for river traffic cost about $500 apiece and last for ten or fifteen years with a small cost of maintenance. Each will carry about ten carloads of freight, or more at high stages of the water.
With little tow power the can reach St. Louis in a week or ten days from St. Paul, or New Orleans in about twenty.

At ordinary stages of water in the upper Mississippi a vessel drawing three feet of water can get through safely. Winona concerns will likely fall in line with the plan. The Minneapolis millers are already in a position, with slight additional cost, to make freight docks for almost any number of barges immediately alongside their mills and avoid transshipment at this end. For exporting purposes out of New Orleans the barge would give a saving in cost of transshipment when freight is loaded on the big transatlantic liners and steamers for South American ports.

"We can put ten carloads of flour on the ocean coast cheaper by way of the Mississippi and New Orleans than we can now by the all rail, or lake and rail, route to New York city," said the Minneapolis representative yesterday.

"By the lake and rail route we are now charged 23 cents a hundred pounds for flour by the railroad interests who control the lake shipping.
From what I have learned I think the millers can put flour on barges in New Orleans for 15 cents at least, and on upper Ohio points for about the same money.

"There is no doubt in my mind that a string of barges will be sent south this year by a Minneapolis miller, and, if no better arrangements are made with the railroads on the lake and water route into New York via Buffalo, the business will be entered into as a permanent institution next year."

were screened with branches of syringas, baskets of pink roses, and vases of tall stately lilies were everywhere when the pupils of Mrs. Mary Austin gave a charming program to about two hundred guests. The pupils showed remarkable talent in their playing and Mrs. Austin has so imbued them with the musical sense, that the interpretation and feeling with which these children and young people perform is delightful.

Miss Russell assisted, singing two groups, the second being some new Gaynor songs. Her inimitable charm of giving the child thoughts and her rich mellow voice is always a delight and it was indeed a treat to hear her again. For an encore she sang one of her own compositions, a most melancholy and dreamy, "Sleep Song."

Miss Russell was charming in a mull gown over pink and a picture hat with pink roses.

PLANS FOR RIVER ARE ANNOUNCED

La Crosse Section to Get its Share of the Improvement by the Government

Officials of the Upper Mississippi River improvement association in a bulletin to members and interested parties call attention to the Winona convention in October and republish a letter from Major C. S. Ritchie, in charge of the upper Mississippi work in which he gives the following details of the work contemplated for this season:

St. Paul to Winona, hired labor $65,000; Winona to Wisconsin river, $65,000; Wisconsin river to Le Claire, $65,000; Rock Island Rapids, $100,000; Hannibal to Missouri river, $65,000; Rock Island to Burlington, contract and hired labor, $42,500; Burlington to Hannibal, contract and hired labor, $42,500; surveys and gages, $5,000; care, repair, purchase and construction of plant, $50,000; total, $500,000.

In the first division, which is 116 miles long and in local charge of Assistant Engineer J. D. Dushane, a suction-dredge will operate in the vicinity of Point Douglas, at head of Lake Pepin and below Alma, in clearing the channel of obstructing sand. A number of dams and pieces of shore protection will be built, repaired and lengthened in the vicinity of Alma, Pine Island, Belvidere Slough and West Newton.

In the second division, which is 95 miles long, and in local charge of Assistant Engineer W. A. Thompson, dams and shore protections will be built, repaired and extended from the foot of Homer Chute to head of Richmond Island, and a dredge will be used at several localities.

In the third division, which is 136 miles long and in local charge of Assistant Engineer S. Edwards, dams and shore protections will be built in Cassville Slough, at Parsons Bar, at Maquoketa Slough, at Kimballs Landing and below Cam-anche. Considerable dredging will be done at Parsons Bar and near Cam-anche.

AIRSHIP HURLED HIGH IN HURRICANE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 30.—M. A. Heimann, who went marketing in a balloon with John Berry, air pilot, came back without any nice fresh eggs. There were not any in the storm, two miles above the earth, that the air craft Meiba flitted with. Instead of green vegetables, Heimann came back with a nice lot of what the "highbrows" call "purple experiences."
The Meiba arose into a hurricane up in the clouds. The balloon was caught by an air twister, that pulled the basket up on a level with the gas bag and then dropped it. The aeronauts pulled the escape valve open and the gas went roaring out, but the balloon did not drop out of the storm. The air current held it prisoner. Then Berry, fearing all the gas would escape, climbed the ropes to the bag and tied the valve shut. Then the balloon began a crazy descent. It was so nearly empty that the bottom telescoped into the top and the big silk bag formed a parachute that dropped the two men safely to earth.

SEVEN INJURED IN BAD TORNADO

One Family Meets With Terrible Experience in a North Dakota Storm

DEVILS LAKE, N. D., June 30.—Seven persons were badly injured and 30 houses were demolished in a tornado which swept the towns of Niles and Leeds late Tuesday, according to telephone reports from both towns today. The earlier reports were greatly exaggerated and so far as is known there were no fatalities. The Aanes family, who lived near Niles, had a terrifying experience. Their home was completely demolished and the father and six children were severely injured. All of the six children sustained either broken arms or legs. The seventh child, a baby, was carried from the house by the storm and was found this morning under a tangle of wires several hundred feet away. The baby was hardly scratched.

back to him" and has no balance of social or religious life.
On the other hand the man who is all social is a dude and the man who is nothing but religious goes to meeting and shouts "glory" or looks pious but does not pay his debts. The third trinity is "physical, mental and sentimental." God has given us a body, a head and a heart. This theme was presented with a versatility of pictures and illustrations which were as remarkable for dramatic action as for language and were altogether beyond reproduction. The fine love story in which the speaker weaved something of his own life was a touch of artistic fire that would do credit to the greatest of historic men.

Concerts Delightful.
The concerts of the Royal Hungarian orchestra both in the afternoon and evening were the delight of the large audiences. Not only did they appeal to the cultured taste of those who love stringed instruments but they caught the popular ear and brought frequent applause and recalls.

"The social dude is the rear end of a cigarette."
"This is woman's age; God has thrown open wide the door to women."

"The boy grabs a dollar and goes to hell, and the girl grabs a dude and takes him home, and that is hell."
"Machinery don't make a country."

Seton Indian Work.
Miss Payton had her class of boys and girls well in hand this morning. The class is not large but what it lacks in numbers is compensated in enthusiasm. The young folks take to the play-work or the work-play like young ducklings to water.

Laird on Whittier.
Mr. George R. Laird as the morning lecturer was in good form today. His subject was Whittier and the Democracy of Puritanism. Pointing to the Hebrews as the first race to realize and anything of a spiritual democracy, he showed how Christ fully interpreted this in all his teachings. And this became the ideal of an early puritan spirit as expressed by Bunyan, Milton and Cromwell, and afterwards the Puritans of New England.

Whittier can only be understood by appreciating his truly democratic puritan character. Although a Quaker he was also puritan. Whittier was the American Milton.

In a graphic description of Whittier's early home on a New England farm, he caught an inspiration from the poems of Robert Burns and he became the poet of the Abolitionist movement, expressing the "Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man." He wrote for Wm. Lloyd Garrison's paper, the Liberatorist.

The songs and poems of a people precede their laws, and this was eminently true of the democratic poetry of Whittier.

Mr. Laird read from a number of Whittier's poems to illustrate this theme.

Mr. Roberts is much pleased with La Crosse, having taken in a good share of the city, and on Sunday he enjoyed the excursion to Winona on the palatial river packet "J. S."

CURE FOLLOWED YEAR OF AGONY

Intense Itching Eczema Drove Him Nearly to Despair—Chief Surgeon of a London Hospital Called It Worst Case He Had Ever Seen—Got Little or No Relief Until

CUTICURA STOPPED HIS UNBEARABLE TORTURE

"About four years ago, in London, I was troubled by a severe itching and dry, scurfy skin, often ankles and feet. The same, in a few days, was the case with my arms and scalp. I could hardly keep from scratching, which, I need hardly say, made it worse. Then large red patches appeared, with inflammation and soreness. After ten days thousands of small red pimples formed. On becoming dry, these caused intense itching. I was advised to go to the hospital for diseases of the skin. I did so and was an out-patient for a month or more, the chief surgeon saying, 'I never saw such a bad case of eczema.' But I got little or no relief. Then I tried many so-called remedies, but I became so bad that I almost gave up in despair. On coming to this country I heard so many accounts of cures by Cuticura Remedies that I resolved, as a last resource, to give them a trial. This was after suffering agonies for twelve months, and right glad am I that I did so, for I was relieved of the almost unbearable itching after two or three applications of Cuticura Ointment. I continued its use, combined with a liberal use of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Resolvent Pills, and am more than thankful to say that after using three sets of the Remedies, I was completely cured. I can only add that, should any one be suffering as I did, I hope that they will do as I did, and I am sure of the results. Henry Searle, 2022 Cross St., Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 8 and 10, '07."

WINONA GROCERS COMING AUG. 3RD.

Mayor Sorensen and the La Crosse Association Will Greet Visitors at Foot of Bridge

The annual picnic of the Winona grocers will be held August 3rd at Pettibone park. The steamer will arrive here at 11:30 a. m. and return at 5 o'clock. The J. S. has been chartered for the occasion.

The mayor of La Crosse and members of the La Crosse Grocers' association, will meet the Winona Grocers at the foot of the La Crosse bridge upon their arrival. The address of welcome will be made by the mayor, and other talks will be given by the grocers of both associations. At the conclusion of the speech making, games, foot races, votative races, land driving contests and many other forms of sport will be indulged in.

PUELICHER IS HOME; NO SUBPOENA SERVED

(From the Milwaukee Sentinel.)
John H. Puelicher, cashier of the Marshall & Halsey bank and one of the Stephenson campaign managers who has been away from Milwaukee for several months trying to recover his health, returned Tuesday for a short stay. Mr. Puelicher has improved considerably in health, but is still far from his former strength, he says.

He refused to be interviewed, saying that he had nothing to say for the press. When asked if he would now remain in Milwaukee he replied that he should return to the sanatorium for further rest.

He did not say how long he expected to remain in Milwaukee, but it appeared as though his stay there would be short.

It is known that a subpoena was issued by the senate investigating committee for Mr. Puelicher, but was not served as he was not at that time in the state. It was understood that the subpoena would be served as soon as he returned from his trip abroad.

On his return, however, Mr. Puelicher went to a Winnetka, Ill., sanatorium. It is probable that he will return to the sanatorium before the members of the committee learn that he is within reaching distance.

FATHER, HERE IS YOUR NEW TARIFF

a dozen, but the Aldrich bill restores the Dingley rate.

Gloves Stand Pat.
He may find some consolation also in the fact that ladies' and children's gloves, on which Payne raised the Dingley rates from 100 to 300 per cent on the ground that the protection would transfer the industry to this country, have been returned to the old rates in the Aldrich bill. He cannot help wondering, however, what the conference committee will do to this schedule as well as to that relating to shoes, on which the senate placed a duty of 20 per cent ad valorem as compared to 15 per cent in the Payne bill and 25 per cent in the Dingley law.

If he has any occasion to buy silk plush outfits, he will be confronted with the fact that Aldrich raised the Dingley rate of 75 per cent to 105 per cent. He will learn that there is an increase of 15 per cent each on silk vest and ribbons. Many other varieties of silk fabrics have been increased from 10 to 13 per cent.

Lingerie Ballooning.

Lingerie will also give father some palpitations of the heart, for Aldrich succeeded in raising the tariff on laces and embroideries from the present rate of 60 per cent, the highest that had ever been imposed, to a rate varying from 70 to 150 per cent. This falls particularly upon the very cheapest laces, those that in the European markets sell at less than two cents per dozen yards. It should be noted moreover that the increased duties are not confined to laces proper but are imposed equally upon all articles of which laces form even the most insignificant part.

When father pays his grocery bill he will find that there have been increases over the Dingley rates on lemons of 50 per cent, celery 51 per cent, berries 25 per cent, and grapes 25 per cent.

The same old rates, however, prevail on such imported food supplies as meats, eggs, breadstuffs, dairy products, fish and berries. There have been also the following increases on farm products:

Other Ascensions.
Corn, 33 per cent; oats, 32 per cent; wheat, 20 per cent, and rye, 100 per cent.

It may afford some satisfaction for father to learn that imported "hand-me-down" suits are not increased in the Aldrich bill over the 50 per cent ad valorem rate of the Dingley bill.

It will depend largely upon the compulsion of fathers' pocketbook whether or not he will have any reason to growl over the fact that a duty of 35 per cent has been put upon foreign made yachts, whereas they used to come in free.

Might Try Strychnine.
But after the bills for the month have been received and father compares them with his balance in the bank, perhaps he may find relief in turning to paragraphs 14 and 78. He may take his choice as between chloroform and strychnine, as each has been reduced 50 per cent.

EDWARDS OUTLINES IMPROVEMENTS

$25,000 of New Bond Issue Will Be Used for Fixing Up the Service, Says the President

In order it is stated to provide for betterments, extensions, payment of the floating debt, the La Crosse City Railway company has filed an indenture with the register of deeds in accordance with the Wisconsin Trust company, calling for the issue of $100,000 in five per cent gold bonds.

According to this paper the La Crosse City Railway company is allowed to make, execute and deliver a deed of trust or place a mortgage on all its property which will secure the issue, each bond to be $1,000. They are to be payable semi-annually and redeemable at the option of the company not later than 20 years from the date of execution. None are to come due later than 30 years from said date.

To Improve System

President B. E. Edwards of the company said today that the entire issue was accepted this morning by the First National Bank of La Crosse. After paying up the old bond issue Mr. Edwards said there would be about $25,000 remaining which will be devoted to improving the service.

It is the intention of the company to relay its down town trackage, where the rails are now in poor condition with the heavy sixty-foot rail, and to pave its right of way where streets are improved, with a heavy stone flagging. Owing to the press of other work, however, it is not thought that this part of the work will be reached this year.

MURDERS TO STEAL HIS DIVORCED WIFE

DES MOINES, Ia., June 30.—Calvin Littlepage, 28, a Dallas county farmer, murdered his divorced wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jamison late yesterday and then attempted to kidnap his ex-wife and baby. He committed suicide early today after having been pursued all night by an armed posse of officers and farmers. There was a bullet hole in his right temple and at his side lay a revolver and rifle with which he had held the posse at bay all night.

After Littlepage murdered Jamisons and fled with his wife and baby, Mrs. Littlepage escaped as the posse approached. The man fired five shots at her as she fled but did not hit her. At midnight the posse reported that it had cornered the man in a barn two miles from Valley Junction and that he had declared he would not be taken alive. The posse surrounded the barn to wait for daylight but Littlepage must have escaped under cover of darkness. His body was found half a mile from the barn, lying in a swampy field. Just when he ended his life is not known.

Wife Was Divorced

Mrs. Littlepage, a month ago secured a divorce from her husband, and taking her baby with her, went to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jamison. Littlepage repeatedly demanded to visit her but her parents refused to let him in the house. Late yesterday Littlepage drove up to the Jamison house and started to enter when Jamison stopped him. Without a word, Littlepage went back to his buggy, took out a rifle and shot Jamison through the heart. Mrs. Jamison had fled out the back door but Littlepage followed her and shot her down. She died in a few moments.

Took Woman Captive
In the meantime, Mrs. Littlepage, who had witnessed the murder of her parents, attempted to escape but Littlepage compelled her and her baby to get into his buggy with him.

Neighbors had been aroused and a posse was formed which pursued Littlepage for fifteen miles. During the whole ride, Mrs. Littlepage struggled fiercely with the desperate man.

Used Baby As Shield

When the buggy reached Campbell, Iowa, a deputy sheriff stepped out and pointing a gun at Littlepage called on him to surrender. The man, however, seized his baby, held the child in front of him, threatened the deputy with a revolver and escaped. Shortly after this, Mrs. Littlepage escaped with her child and Littlepage went on alone. Early this morning the posse reported that it had surrounded the man in a barn about six miles from the scene of the crime.

There probably never was a red headed boy who wasn't called "Red" by his companions.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

Removing the symptoms is not all that is necessary to cure Contagious Blood Poison. The virulent germs which produce these outward manifestations must be completely driven from the blood before a real cure can be effected. The least taint left in the circulation will, sooner or later, cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all the hideous symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc.

Contagious Blood Poison is the most treacherous of all diseases. It has its victims in its power almost before they realize its presence, because its first symptom is usually a little sore or pimple so insignificant that it does not excite suspicion. But the insidious poison is at work on the blood and in a short while the patient finds he is more or less affected from head to foot.

Contagious Blood Poison is too dangerous to trifle with. No time should be lost in riding the blood of this destructive poison, and in no disease is it more important to have the proper remedy. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time and leave the real cause smoldering in the system have brought misery and disappointment to thousands. Faithfully the sufferers took such treatment, usually of mineral nature, and when all symptoms had disappeared and the treatment was left off, found the virus had only been shut up in the system awaiting a favorable opportunity to return, with every symptom intensified.

S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and cures it permanently. It goes down into the blood and removes every particle of the poison, makes the circulation pure and healthy, and does not leave the slightest trace of the disease for future outbreaks. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, all of which are healing and cleansing in their nature. It does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to injure the delicate parts of the system. S. S. S. will also drive out any lingering remains of mineral poison that may be in the blood from the former treatment. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison S. S. S. will cure you, because it will purify your blood. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

CURED SOUND AND WELL.
Dear Sirs:—I didn't find out that I had contracted Contagious Blood Poison until it had made considerable headway, and fortunately for me the friend that I first consulted had had some experience with the disease, and advised me to take S. S. S. I didn't fool with any doctors, but began at once the use of your medicine, taking it as directed. My friend told me to stick to it, and that was what I did and got along splendidly from the very first, and my recovery was rapid. I took a number of bottles, and am now as well as ever. When I began to feel my face was so full of sores and eruptions that I could not shave, and now there is not a blotch or pimple on my body. There is nothing in the world that can beat S. S. S. for Blood Poison, and I always recommend it for such cases. A friend of mine is taking it now, and is getting along nicely. WALTER WEBER.
204 Oakley St., Evansville, Ind.

COVERED WITH SORES.
I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, which was in spots at first, but afterwards spread all over my body. These soon broke out into sores, and it is easy to imagine the suffering I endured. Before I became convinced that the doctors could do me no good I had spent a hundred dollars, and was nearly thrown away. I then tried various patent medicines, but they did not reach the disease. When I had finished my first bottle of S. S. S. I was greatly improved, and was delighted with the result. The large red spots on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I regained my lost weight, became stronger and my appetite greatly improved. I was soon entirely well, and my skin as clear as a piece of glass. H. L. MYERS.
55 Clinton Street, Newark, N. J.

THE USUAL SYMPTOMS.
Having used S. S. S. quite extensively, I am in position to know its virtues. As the result of a serious blood disorder my blood became poisoned and I suffered severely with Rheumatism and other symptoms not necessary to mention. A friend told me he had cured of my trouble by S. S. S. and upon his recommendation I began its use. After using it for some time my blood was thoroughly cleansed of all poisons and made pure and strong again. I wish also to speak of its tonic properties. It built up my general health, it improved my appetite, and I gained strength, and I felt better in every way. I am a great believer in S. S. S. and with pleasure recommend it to all who need a good blood medicine. ROBERT M. ZWITZIG.

OUTCASTS DEFEAT DULUTH WHITE SOX

The Locals Win on Two Hits and an Error by Kohl in the First Inning

An Extra Inning Pitcher's Duel Between Stremmel and Baillies Is Won By Superior

Games Yesterday
La Crosse, 2; Duluth, 1.
Eau Claire, 4; Wausau, 2.
Superior, 3; Winona, 2 (12 innings).

Games Today
Duluth at La Crosse.
Superior at Winona.
Wausau at Eau Claire.

The Outcasts took the Duluth White Sox into camp yesterday and trimmed them up to the score of 2 to 1. Although the locals were outbatted, they got the bingles at the time when they meant runs.

Schardt was on the rubber for La Crosse and pitched a good game. Although the Sox got five hits they were so well scattered that they did no noticeable damage. Cummings, the Duluth slab artist, pitched a marvelous game, holding the locals down to three hits, two of which in the first inning were responsible for the two runs. For seven innings he held the locals down to no hits but the deciding scores of the game had been rushed over the plate and Duluth was unable to overcome the lead which La Crosse obtained in that deciding first inning. The support of the locals was good, but two errors being marked up against them, one by Wilhelm and one by Kraher.

"Darby" O'Brien and Breen were benched in the seventh inning for disputing the umpire's decisions. Daus went in at second and Murray at third.

In the first inning Malloy was out, O'Brien to McCrone. Wilhelm put a safe one to left field, and was advanced to second on Klein's slam to Kohl, which the shortstop failed to handle. Safford slammed a peach to the sun gear scoring Wilhelm. Ludwig threw low to Breen, who failed to stop the poor throw, letting Klein in with the last of La Crosse's two scores. Eddie Kline filed out to Breen, and Barlow popped a high one to Kohl.

The Six's single run came in the fourth. Breen, who had hit a pretty one to center field, was advanced to second on McCrone's hit to the same place and was sacrificed to third by Taylor. On a throw to second base by Klein, who expected to catch McCrone stealing, the Duluth third baseman came home with a run. Kohl filed out to Malloy and Mueller ended the inning by striking out.

Matt started a pretty double play in the seventh when he caught Mueller's liner and threw to Kraher, getting Taylor out after he had taken a long lead off the bag. Taylor started the inning well, getting a pretty two-bagger to right field and bot for the double play would probably have scored.

It was the best exhibition of ball seen on the local grounds for a long time, the game after the first inning resolving itself into an exciting nip and tuck contest which was only decided after the last Duluth batter had filed out in the ninth inning.

The game after the first inning became a slugging match between the pitchers with the odds greatly in favor of the visitor. The locals failed to get another hit until the eighth inning when Schardt drove a pretty one to center field.

The attendance was far below the average and discouraging to those who are interested in making baseball a success here. The fans must come out and bolster up the attendance as a full grand stand of the right sort of fans can aid materially in the winning of games. The score:

There will be no information gathered under this law that will be of any use to the public except the president should direct that it be made public. It is all made dependent upon the will of the president. A publicity feature that is dependent upon the will of any one man is of little or no value. A publicity feature to be of any value should automatically make all of the information which could be of value to the public in the framing of legislation for the control of such corporations, public. Those who have studied the question carefully say that in the levying and collection of taxes there should be no part of the machinery which could be sealed. Other tax payers should have the opportunity to know all the facts so as to determine whether or not their valuation and assessment is being made upon a correct basis. And they should not be dependent for such information upon the will of any man. The publicity feature as prepared under the direction of Mr. Aldrich is a fake. It would not be otherwise. Mr. Aldrich, the master, and Mr. Root and Mr. Wickersham, the instrumentalities which worked out the legal end of this tax, have no sympathy with the purpose in such law and it cannot be expected that men not in sympathy with its purposes would work out a law that would be effective.

BIG MEET AT CHICAGO AUG. 7

CHICAGO, June 30.—Arrangements have been practically completed by the Chicago Athletic association for the big triangular track meet between the Chicago A. A., the New York A. A. and the Irish-American A. C. to be held here on August 7. Coach Martin Delaney of the Chicago A. A. announced today that he had secured the services of a number of star performers, including many of the men who were on the American Olympic track team last year. Among these will be Shaw and Fifield, hurdles; Jacobs and Cook, pole vault; French, Blankinship and Atlee, distance runners; and Hamilton and Huff in the dashes.

Even if a man's good deeds should live after him he wouldn't be in a position to care.

REFORMATORY NOW BEING INVESTIGATED

Guards at Green Bay Said to Have Used Brutality to John Schmidt Two Days Before Death

GREEN BAY, Wis., June 30.—An inquest was held on Tuesday over the body of John Schmidt, who was found dead in bed at the reformatory, to find if his death was natural or caused by alleged ill treatment. Judge Macey's court room, where the inquest was held, was crowded. Members of the board of control were present at the request of Supt. Bowron of the reformatory, but took no part in the proceedings.

Henry Francis, a guard, testified that he had seen Schmidt roughly handled and ill treated and say him struck and kicked a short time before he died. He said he had seen him several times in the "cage" when he complained of being sick. Albert Howell, a prisoner, told this guard that he had seen Schmidt dragged out of bed when he was evidently sick and made to go to work.

Ed Denisty, discharged from the reformatory, testified that he had seen Schmidt fall to the floor and left to lie there for an hour and he was too weak to walk when raised from the floor.

A. B. Pengel, another guard, said he had seen Schmidt punished two or three nights before he died. He also stated that inmate, Webb, told him he had seen Schmidt kicked by a guard two days before his death.

Frank Cook, formerly a guard, testified that he had received orders to put Schmidt to work, although he appeared too weak, and that he gave him a job to carry water to other men at work. Cook also testified that Schmidt was willing to work.

In the afternoon three former prisoners and two prisoners testified in regard to the treatment and punishment which Schmidt had received.

Physical Condition Poor
Drs. Sanfish and Gregory testified that the physical condition of Schmidt was poor and that he should have been given light work.

Supt. Bowron stated that the assistant superintendent had charge of cases of punishment as disciplinary of the reformatory.

ENGINEER KILLED IN STRANGE MANNER

JEFFERSON, Wis., June 30.—John A. Buiehta, stationary engineer, while sitting in the sun near the engine room, was overcome and a switch engine struck him on the head. He recovered and asked an assistant to shut off his big engine. The assistant did not know how and Buiehta went to show him. He staggered, fell into the rapidly revolving big fly wheel and was hurled to death.

MYSTERIOUS MAN STABS WOMEN

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 30.—Milwaukee's entire police force is on the trail of a shabbily dressed man who is alleged to have wantonly stabbed a woman on Grand avenue, and to have attempted to stab another.

His first victim is Miss Bergoda Vick, a stenographer, 21 years of age, Sixty-sixth avenue and Elm street, West Allis.

In front of the Majestic theater Tuesday afternoon her assailant brushed against her rudely. She did not know that she was wounded until she had walked a block.

Then she felt blood oozing from a wound in her side.

Miss Vick's condition is not believed to be serious.

Three other women have been stabbed since and the police dragnet has resulted in the arrest of five men of apparently the same description. The man steps close to a woman and in jostling her, sticks a knife into her side. The knife used is small but exceedingly sharp, as the victims never realize they have been cut until the man has made his escape.

ASHLAND FIRE CHIEF OUSTED FROM OFFICE

ASHLAND, Wis., June 30.—Chief Schaezle was ousted by a vote of 3 to 2 on Tuesday. The principal charge against the chief was that he had been intoxicated on several occasions and that he had paid more for supplies than the market value, though it was conceded that he had not profited by these transactions, it being held that this lack of business ability was due to his alleged incompetency.

Schaezle has been a fireman for over twenty years. His bravery is not questioned and it could not be shown that he was ever seen drunk on the streets but he allowed his subordinates to drink heavily, hired boys to buy beer for him, and was lax in discipline. There was considerable testimony that he drank to excess although this was disputed in certain instances.

The Only True Hair Restorer, Tonic and Rejuvenator

ALMOST A MIRACLE

My hair was as white as snow when I commenced using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Restorer. One bottle restored my hair to its natural dark brown color. As I am now 70 years old, I consider the result most remarkable. It is an agreeable and refreshing hair dressing, keeping the hair soft and glossy, without being in the least greasy or sticky.

WM. WESTLAKE,
210 West Main Street, Rochester, N. Y.

Why hesitate when WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER is daily producing just such results?

After years of study and analysis of the hair, we have been able to produce an ideal Hair Tonic and Restorer, which contains an actual constituent of hair, combined with ingredients of recognized merit for treatment of hair and scalp diseases. It makes and keeps the scalp clean and healthy, gives life, strength and lustre to the hair, and restores faded and gray hair to natural color.

IT IS NOT A DYE

No matter how long and thick your hair is, WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will make it longer and thicker. It will remove every trace of dandruff in a few days, stop falling in one week, and start a new growth in from one to three months.

These are facts that have been proven in scores of cases. WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER is guaranteed to do all that it is claimed to do or the price will be refunded.

TO AID OF CUPID IN THE NORTHWEST

Frederick E. Goodall, president of the chamber of commerce

SPOKANE, Wash., June 29.—There are fully 2,000 healthy and fairly well-to-do young bachelors in the Inland Empire, taking in parts of eastern Washington and Oregon, northern Idaho, western Montana and southeastern British Columbia. They want wives. That is, if they can find the right ones. All of them are good-hearted, kind, affectionate and capable of real love. They say so in letters to Frederick E. Goodall, president of the Spokane chamber of commerce, who became interested in the movement when Rev. D. D. Vaughan, pastor of the Halstad Street Institutional church, Chicago, announced that more than 200 girls belonging to his congregation would marry "honest men who can make clean money." One of the eligibles said: "What appeals to us most is the fact that the girls are looking for real home makers. They seem agreed that wealth, talent, swiftness of wit and vigor, in our forests, mines and railroad camps, grain fields, orchards and factories. Most of them have had school advantages and not a few are college men. The majority would marry the right kind of girls—the home girls—and give them homes worth while."

While Mr. Goodall has no desire to figure as Cupid's messenger, he will however, forward the bachelor's letters to Rev. Dr. Vaughan at Chicago in the hope that the girls may find their ideal man. In response to the Chicago minister's circulars, Mr. Goodall said this is not to be taken to mean that girls in cities and towns in eastern, middle western, southern and Pacific coast states are barred.

"Nothing of the kind," he added: "the bachelors are here; there are 2,000 of them, and they want wives."

CANTILLON WILL NOT MANAGE THE SOX

CHICAGO, June 30.—President Charles A. Comiskey of the White Sox denies the story that Joe Cantillon now manager of the Washington team of the American league, will come to Chicago to manage the White Sox.

PRISONER FINALLY ADMITS IDENTITY

SPARTA, Wis., June 29.—That the prisoner captured by Sheriff Henry and Deputy Mannel at Wausaukee was the right man was made known to the officers for a certainty yesterday when McCarey himself admitted to Undersheriff Goodman that he was the bank robber for whom the officers have been searching so long.

The undersheriff went to him for data to be used in registering him as one of the occupants of the jail, asking him his name. McCarey said: "There is no use of being unfair with you and I will tell the truth. I am McCarey. When a man is in the position I am in now it pays best to do the right thing."

While in the Van Antwerp & Brooks barber shop yesterday afternoon McCarey resisted having his moustache cut off, but was finally compelled to submit. Here it was that he made his first admission as to his real identity by saying to Detective Fielding who told him that he must have a picture with his beard off: "You've got my picture with it off once. It is not necessary to get it again." Photographer Foster secured good pictures of him in two positions. He made no attempt to spoil the pictures.

Attorney McGowan of Green Bay, who acted as attorney for Jas. Radley and Jas. Clairmont, the two escaped robbers, has been retained as counsel for McCarey. Detective Fielding left last night for Warrens to secure witnesses to be used against him at the hearing.

Council Grants Licenses
The Sparta council met in special session last evening and granted eight saloon licenses, one pool room license and two drug store permits. The license in Sparta has been raised to $800 and the city is enriched to the extent of $6,400 by the licenses granted. Following are the licenses granted: Saloons—Martin Holmes, Thos. Knudson, Wm. Van Antwerp, T. F. Funston, W. H. Brissett, Wm. A. Comstock, Alvah A. Davis and J. C. Johnson; total, $6,400. Pool room—Wm. Van Antwerp, $20. Drug stores—Chamberlain Pharmacy and Gross & Schaller. The licenses will be effective July 1st.

Old Resident Dead
James H. Burcum died at his home in Sparta yesterday after a long illness of eight years from paralysis. He was one of the older residents of Monroe county, having come here in 1861 and died at the age of 75 years. He was born in Messial, N. Y. Six children besides his wife survive. The funeral will be held today. Rev. Stevens officiating and the interment will be in the Catholic cemetery.

BIG DETECTIVE LEAVES THE CITY

Louis A. Christianson, of the Thiel Detective Service company of Chicago, who has been managing the strike-breakers in the recent trouble here between the La Crosse City Railway company and its men, left yesterday to take a big contract elsewhere. Mr. Christianson is well known in police circles, having taken an active part in many of the largest labor disputes in this country. He assisted in the handling of strike-breakers at the great Chicago teamsters' strike and also managed the men for the company during the Montgomery, Ala., street railway strike of two years ago. Mr. Christianson is a "big husky," being about seven feet tall and built in proportion. He makes his headquarters at Chicago.

All the Brilliant Notes in the scale of modern magazine-making are struck in COSMOPOLITAN.

Short stories—serials—special articles—all the distinctive features of a great magazine are presented, monthly, each by a master.

As examples, take the representative features below—by some of the world's greatest master workmen. Take—

ELIZA CALVERT HALL—whose wonfully clever "Aunt Jane" stories have called forth such emphatic praise from President Roosevelt. Charming—simple—sincere—are the words that characterize the brilliant short stories of this past-master of the art of delightful tale-telling.

ELLIS PARKER BUTLER'S grotesque little masterpiece, "Just story tellers. COSMOPOLITAN contains his brilliantly interesting series of business stories—fascinating tales, as gay, light-hearted and interest-compelling as the best of the elder Dumas.

GEORGE RANDOLPH CHESTER inimitable prince of short-story tellers. COSMOPOLITAN contains his brilliantly interesting series of business stories—fascinating tales, as gay, light-hearted and interest-compelling as the best of the elder Dumas.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW'S irresistible anecdotes have kept the world laughing, now, for nearly half a century. COSMOPOLITAN is the one magazine that has finally succeeded in securing this busy, brilliant statesman-financier to write his charming reminiscences for you.

CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL—journalist—inimitable prose-poet—master of sharp, incisive English—the man who makes you sit up with a start when you read him. It's this vitalizing spirit you'll find in "The Story of Charlemagne"—sharp, incisive, trenchant English that fairly whirls one through the brilliant life-story of one of the greatest, grandest characters that have emerged from the Middle Ages.

These, and more, appear monthly in COSMOPOLITAN.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 30.—The stock market opened steady with some moderate gains in a few stocks while selling orders caused fractional recessions in others. United States Steel Common opened at 69 3/8 to 69 1/4 against 69 at yesterday's close but recorded about a half point. Reading eased off a small fraction at the start but recovered this loss. Third Avenue was weak while Interborough-Metropolitan showed an improved tone. At the end of the first fifteen minutes the majority of issues traded in showed slight recessions from yesterday's close.

11 a. h.—A large number of selling orders were put in the market shortly after the opening. Under this pressure Steel common declined over a point and there was moderate decline in a number of other issues, including Reading, but none became strong after this selling.

Government bonds unchanged; others strong.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

GO COATLESS TO CHURCH MINNEAPOLIS, June 30.—An invitation has been extended by Rev.
W. R. Harshaw, pastor of Grace Presbyterian church, to the male members of his church and congregation to attend service in their shirt sleeves. The shirt waist man and the man without a coat will be as welcome in the church, according to Mr.
Harshaw, as the man with a Prince Albert.

TWO WOMEN FACE CHARGE OF MURDER

MANKATO, Minn., June 30.— Frank Smith, bullet-headed, crouched low in a chair in the inquest room at Mankato yesterday afternoon, ready and even eager to tell what he terms the true version of the murder of H. J. Ledbetter, the wealthy farmer whose body was unearthed in a potato patch Sunday.
Across the room from this man, who confesses that he was an accomplice, sat two handsome women and a clean-cut young fellow, a defiant trio accused by Smith, who says that they were his accessories.
All four are charged with murder in the first degree, and Smith, the farmhand, bears witness against the others in one of the most singular statements ever made to a coroner's jury. He says that Mrs. Ledbetter killed her husband with an ax because of love for him. And she cries at the mention of her name in connection with his. Her disgust she can scarcely express. Probably no two more opposite types of man and woman could be found.

MAN IS KILLED; MOR STORMS ENGINE

NEGAUNEE, Mich., June 30.— Train No. 105, in charge of Conductor Cameron and Engineer Dubois of Milwaukee ran over and instantly killed Edward Peltier, an employee of the Consolidated Fuel and Lumber company, while he was driving across the track at the company's office. Feeling here runs high and only interference of the police saved the engineer from getting pulled from the cab by an angry mob.

GET THE DYNAMITER

CHICAGO, June 30.—After spending most of the night with Felix Sharkey, arrested as a suspect in the latest dynamiting outrage here in which $125,000 damage was done, Captain of Detectives O'Brien said today that he was confident he had the man responsible for the placing of the bomb and probably several other bomb throwing incidents.

DEATH IN CYCLONE

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 30.—The town of Minnewaukan, N. D., is reported to have been razed by a cyclone Tuesday. One woman is reported dead and a number of people injured.

A report from Leeds, N. D., is that eight people were killed there by the cyclone. The home of Erick Urness, farmer, near Niles, N. D., was demolished. Mrs. Urness and six children being injured. Mrs. Urness may die.

PLAN NEW BANK

CHICAGO, June 30.—Another big financial institution for Chicago is planned by the merger of the Commercial National and Bankers' National banks. Negotiations are now in progress but have not reached a successful conclusion.

Should the deal go through, it would mean an institution with deposits of $72,000,000, a capital stock of $7,000,000 and a surplus of $4-400,000.

I.A. CRESCENT, MINN.

Warren Rifenburg and family visited relatives in town one day last week. Mr. Rifenburg is a farmer and has planted this season 47 acres of potatoes, which is his principle crop.
Mrs. Catherine Taft of Houston is serving a week among relatives and friends.

C. E. Boynton drove to Caledonia Thursday of last week on business.
The strawberry crop is not as good as last year but prices keep up so they are a profitable crop. A few days more and they will be a thing of the past.

A. E. Luther, Jake Hill and Asa Berfield came home Sunday evening to spend the Fourth with their families and friends. They are employed on the extension of the C. M. & St. P. R. R.

Will Emily of La Crosse visited his brother, W. L. and family Thursday.
Will Burrow sold his fine drivers to George Watson, of Wilmington.
Consideration three hundred dollars.

La Crescent will celebrate the 3rd with baseball and a bowery dance afternoon and evening. The South Ridge band will be on hand which will insure good music for the day and evening.

The Masonic lodge installed officers last Thursday evening. Refreshments were served and a general good time had by all who attended.
It was public to Masons, their families and invited guests.

G. W. Boynton has sold his bees to Mr. Walters of South Ridge.
A Lilly sold to Phillip Fittings the residence formerly owned by his father. Consideration two thousand dollars.

The stump sawing machine patented by E. B. Webster was tested in the woods last week and did better work than looked for, cutting stumps close to the ground so they could run a mower over them without lifting the sickle bar. Mr. Webster invites the public to come and see for themselves. Some of the stumps that were sawed were over six feet in diameter.

CHIPMUNK COULEE

Mr. Hugh Rogers has finished grading the public road in Chipmunk Coulee.

Mr. Adolph Starck and a party of girls have been on a pleasure trip to Coon Valley.

Chipmunk Coulee will have a picnic on the 5th of July. The place decided on is on the farm of Mr. John Bendel.

Many of the farmers of Chipmunk Coulee spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jacob Bendel, it being her birthday.

Mr. Hirschheimer of the La Crosse Plow Co., was a caller in Chipmunk Coulee Friday.

A dance was given by Mr. Herlit-zka on Chipmunk Coulee Ridge Saturday night.

The officers of the school board of District No. 1 met at the school house June 26.

The annual school meeting of the district will be held at the school house July 5.

FIREWORKS SOLD IN LA CROSSE NOW

Notwithstanding the present movement for a sane Fourth, the fireworks dealers in the city report that the buying of fireworks has not been entirely curtailed. The dealers not only in La Crosse, but all over the United States, are endeavoring to make this Fourth a sane one in every respect by handling nothing in the line of fireworks of a dangerous character. The dealers uphold the movement undertaken and have not laid in their usual supply.

In the state of Wisconsin the limit for firecrackers is three inches in length, all crackers which run larger than this have been eliminated. The sky rocket, roman candles, electric sparklers, son-of-a-gun and many other fireworks are being displayed by the dealers.

FIRM GOES TO WALL

NEW YORK, June 30.—A sharp decline in cotton seed oil in which the firm had been a heavy dealer is supposed to have been responsible for the failure of Auerbach and Co. The firm announced its inability to meet obligations today by posting a notice on the New York Produce Exchange.

Jexall

DEPILATORY

Will easily and harmlessly remove this blemish. It acts on the hair and its roots; removes the hair by dissolving it and does it without injury to the most delicate skin. It leaves no mark or scar of any kind. It doesn't do anything but remove the hair but it does that thoroughly. It is easy to apply and the results are lasting. We'll demonstrate this to you before you buy. Price, 75 Cts.

LAWSUIT STIRS PORTLAND SOCIETY

MRS. BEATRICE HILL GADSBY AND BABY.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 29.— Through a suit filed in circuit court here, Portland society has been set agog to a tremendous extent. Mrs.
Beatrice Hill Gadsby, and his wife, Nellie Gadsby, all of them prominent society lights, for $200,000, for breaking up her home. She tells a tale of mother-in-law that has aroused both sympathy and indignation.
When Walter Gadsby married Beatrice Hill April 2, 1907, life looked bright to them and for them. The roses bloomed outwardly, at least, till September 16, 1908, when Walter mysteriously disappeared. His family said he had gone to Mexico, that he would travel for a year, and would visit far countries before he came back home. The beautiful home they had furnished was stripped and the furniture taken back to the Gadsby store, whence it came, and the young woman went back to her father to live. Soon a little baby was born, but the father did not return, nor has he yet. Later a divorce was readily secured by Mrs. Gadsby on grounds of desertion.
Portland gossiped and wondered, for the Gadsbys are prominent folk here.
In this suit against Gadsby, Sr., the young woman gives out the reason of all the trouble. "Too much mother-in-law, is the way she puts it.
She says the elder Mrs. Gadsby was jealous of her, that she wanted all of Walter's affection for herself. She alleges the parents connived in every way to get their son to leave his wife, by hints, by innuendo, by promises of pecuniary advantage, even by slurs on herself. That they were successful, the desertion shows."
"And yet, I love Walter, and would return to him if he came back," says the heart-broken young woman.
